The portable toilet industry has grown worldwide because of the important economic benefits it provides to the construction and outdoor event industries. Portable toilets save money on construction and other work sites because they save time and reduce labor costs. Workers are more productive spending less time using the conveniently located sanitary portable toilet and more time completing the construction project. The portable toilets can be easily relocated and can follow the workers as the project progresses. For outdoor events, portable toilets generate money for the event organizer because spectators will stay longer and thus spend more money.

This ever-increasing demand for portable toilets provides an excellent business opportunity for new or established companies who wish to diversify into this business segment. By providing a service that has widespread demand in the marketplace and benefits society, owners of portable toilet companies are finding the toilet rental and service business to be a profitable venture with unlimited growth potential.

It is not often that a supplier develops into a resource for your overall business. No other portable sanitation equipment manufacturer in the world can offer, complete start-up training programs, new equipment designs each year, the largest range of portable toilet models and service vehicles, the largest research and development department of its kind, the most responsive, multilingual, customer service department. We are working continuously to give you more products, options and operating information. Satellite offers the right combination of portable toilets, deodorizers, hand wash and vacuum service vehicles, with the features and high performance you require for your business. Buying Satellite equipment means you are getting the most durable equipment designed for low maintenance and long life. We are not a one-style-fits-all company. That is why we give you so many choices...More choices and support than any other supplier.

There are several models of portable toilets to choose from. We can supply you with a range from basic portable toilets to mid-priced models to deluxe portable toilets complete with flushing systems, hand wash, coat hooks and mirrors. We provide a full range of components for portable sanitation service vehicles as well. Satellite has a portable toilet model within your price range available in colors and options that complement your business image. The difference is the quality. You'll stand out by offering stylish, hygienic, well-built and vandal-resistant portable sanitation equipment.

portable toilet chart

To calculate the number of portable toilets needed for an event, determine the estimated number of people (the red numbers) and the number of hours (the blue numbers) the event is to last, and find the corresponding number of units (the black numbers) suggested for the event. It is important to also consider other factors such as whether food and beverages are being served.
